

Note: Any reference in this form to 'country' refers to 'foreign country' which is defined in paragraph 22(1)(f) of the Acts Interpretation Act 1901 as any country (whether or not an independent sovereign state) outside Australia and the external Territories.

Who should use this form?

Applicants applying for a Working Holiday visa.

Working Holiday visa applications may also be made on the internet through the department's website. If you wish to apply on the internet you do not need to use this form. Payment must be made by credit card. Also, please note that holders of a British National Overseas (BNO) or a Republic of Cyprus passport are not able to apply on the internet.

Visa overview

The Working Holiday Maker programme aims to promote international understanding. It provides opportunities for resourceful, self-reliant and adaptable young people to holiday in Australia and to supplement their funds through incidental employment.

A Working Holiday visa allows the visa holder to:

- stay in Australia for up to 12 months;
- leave and re-enter Australia any number of times while the visa is valid;
- work in Australia for up to 6 months with each employer;
- study or train for up to 4 months.

Who is eligible?

Australia currently has reciprocal working holiday maker arrangements with Belgium, Canada, the Republic of Cyprus, Denmark, Estonia, Finland, France, Germany, the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region (HKSAR) of the People's Republic of China, the Republic of Ireland, Italy, Japan, the Republic of Korea, Malta, the Netherlands, Norway, Sweden, Taiwan and the United Kingdom.

Australia continues to negotiate working holiday maker arrangements with additional countries. To see whether an arrangement has been established with your country, check the department's website at www.immi.gov.au/visitors/ or check with an Australian Government office.

To confirm whether you are required to undertake a medical examination, please refer to form 1163i Health requirement for temporary entry to Australia, at www.immi.gov.au/allforms/

Note: If you are applying from outside Australia (for a first Working Holiday visa), the required health examinations are outlined under the heading Stay of more than 3 months, up to and including 12 months on form 1163i. If you are applying from within Australia (for a first or second Working Holiday visa), the required health examinations are outlined under the heading Stay of more than 12 months.

Please be aware that the cost of health requirement is not included in the visa application charge you must pay when you lodge your Working Holiday visa application.

You should have adequate health insurance to cover your stay in Australia, unless there is a reciprocal health care agreement between Australia and your country of residence (or in certain circumstances your country of residence and citizenship). For more information, see www.medicareaustralia.gov.au/yourhealth/going\_overseas/vtta.htm.

You should take out private health insurance that takes into account your individual needs and will cover your personal circumstances in Australia.

What this visa allows you to do

Visa duration for a first Working Holiday visa

If you are granted a first Working Holiday visa you can:

- travel to Australia at any time in the 12 months from the date your Working Holiday visa is granted; and
- stay in Australia for 12 months from the date you first enter the country on your Working Holiday visa.

Visa duration for a second Working Holiday visa

The visa duration for a second Working Holiday visa depends on your circumstances when you lodged the application, as outlined in the table below:

Your circumstances when you applied for your second Working Holiday visa	If granted a second Working Holiday visa, you can:
If you were in Australia, and held a first Working Holiday visa	Remain in Australia for 24 months from the date you first entered Australia on your first Working Holiday visa*
If you were in Australia, but did not hold a first Working Holiday visa	Remain in Australia for 12 months from the date your second Working Holiday visa is granted
If you were outside Australia	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• travel to Australia at any time in the 12 months from the date your second Working Holiday visa is granted; and</li> <li>• stay in Australia for 12 months from the date you first enter the country on your second Working holiday visa.</li> </ul>

* For example, you arrive in Australia on your first Working Holiday visa on 1 January 2006. Your first Working Holiday visa is valid until 1 January 2007. You apply for, and are granted, a second Working Holiday visa on 1 November 2006. You are able to remain in Australia until 1 January 2008.

Travel rights

You may leave and re-enter Australia any number of times within the validity period of your Working Holiday visa, however, any time spent outside Australia while on your Working Holiday visa does not extend the length of the visa.

Note: If you are granted a Working Holiday visa and an Electronic Travel Authority (ETA), you will activate the Working Holiday visa on arrival. If you wish to travel on the ETA, you must have your Working Holiday visa cancelled.

Studying

As a Working Holiday visa holder you are permitted to undertake study or training for a maximum of 4 months.

Working

As the main purpose of your visit should be to holiday and travel, you should not work for the full period of your stay. If your main reason for coming to Australia is to work, you should consider a type of visa intended for work purposes, such as a business visa. Further information on work visa options is available at www.immi.gov.au/skilled/

As a Working Holiday visa holder you may do any kind of work in Australia, however, you may only work for the same employer for up to 6 months. The 'employer' is the business for which you are working directly. You are not permitted to extend your employment beyond 6 months with any one employer through the use of business affiliates and/or sub-contracting arrangements or employment agencies. In practical terms, this means that you cannot work for longer than 6 months in the same position, in the same location, doing the same work.

Note: If you intend to work in your occupation in Australia you should be aware that registration or licensing may be required. This applies particularly to the health professions, you need to obtain registration or licensing in Australia. See form 1121i Skilled Occupations List for contact numbers.

Australian law sets pay rates and conditions of employment which cannot be undercut through informal arrangements or unregistered contracts. If you have concerns about your pay and conditions, you can contact the WorkChoices Infoline on 1300 363 264. Further information on employment in Australia is available on the department's website www.immi.gov.au/visitors/ and on the Department of Employment and Workplace Relations' websites www.dewr.gov.au and www.wagenet.gov.au

Abiding by visa conditions

In addition to the work and study limitations, a number of additional visa conditions may also be imposed on your Working Holiday visa by a decision officer. A breach of any visa condition may result in cancellation of your visa and you may be required to leave Australia. If you require further information about visa conditions, please contact any office of the department.

Extending your stay

You may be eligible for another visa to remain temporarily or permanently in Australia at the end of your working holiday. For further information about visa options, see www.immi.gov.au

Note: Working Holiday visa holders are only able to meet the criteria for grant of a visitor visa to enable a longer stay in Australia if exceptional circumstances exist. If you do not apply for another visa, you must depart Australia when your Working Holiday visa ends.

First Working Holiday visa applications should be sent to your nearest overseas Australian Government office, or lodged there by you or your representative. Address details can be obtained from the department's website at www.immi.gov.au/contacts/overseas/

You should not make any irreversible travel arrangements until you receive written advice of the department's decision on your application.

Important – change of personal / passport details

If you wish to change any details after you lodge your application, including your passport details, or if you wish to withdraw the application, please contact the department.

Applicants for a first Working Holiday visa who change their passport should contact the Australian Government office where they lodged the application. Contact details are available at www.immi.gov.au/contacts/overseas/

Applicants for a second Working Holiday visa who change their passport should e-mail 2ndWHM.Helpdesk@immi.gov.au

Your Working Holiday visa application is linked to the passport number provided in your application. If you are granted a Working Holiday visa, but do not provide us with the details of any new passport you use to travel to Australia, you will experience significant delays at the airport and could be denied permission to board your plane.

Visa label

Working Holiday visa holders are not required to have a visa label in their passport to enter Australia, but if you choose to do so, you may either:

- attend the nearest office of the department after arrival in Australia and present your current passport; or
- have a visa label printed at Sydney airport on arrival.

There is no charge for this service.

Authorisation of a person to only receive written communications

You may authorise another person to only receive all written communications about your Working Holiday visa application. That person will be known as your authorised recipient. To do this you will need to complete Part D Options for receiving written communications and Part E Authorised recipient details in this form. The authorised recipient will need to sign at Part F. You can only appoint one authorised recipient at any time. The department will communicate with the most recently appointed authorised recipient.

The department is required under section 494D of the Migration Act 1958 (the Act) to send your authorised recipient any written communications relating to your application that would otherwise have been sent to you. The department will only send your authorised recipient information which you are entitled to receive. For example, if you are a visa applicant and have a sponsor, your authorised recipient will not receive personal information about your sponsor, unless your sponsor also appointed the same authorised recipient.

If you decide to change your nominated authorised recipient, after you have lodged this application, you must promptly advise the department in writing. You may use form 1231 Appointment of authorised recipient for this purpose.

Authorisation of a migration agent to act on your behalf

If you have a migration agent acting on your behalf in relation to your Working Holiday visa application, you need to complete Part D Options for receiving written communications and Part G Agent details. The migration agent will need to sign at Part H Agent Consent.

Appointing a migration agent to act on your behalf includes authorising the department to:

- discuss your Working Holiday visa application with the agent and seek further information from them; and
- send your agent written communications about your Working Holiday visa application that would otherwise have been sent to you.

Note: Your migration agent will be your authorised recipient for written communication under section 494D of the Act and you will be taken to have received any documents sent to them.

If you change your migration agent or end his/her appointment, after you have lodged this application, you must promptly advise the department in writing, preferably by using form 956 Appointment of a migration agent, which is available on the department's website or from your migration agent.

The department will communicate with your agent about your application, including your personal information such as health, police checks, financial viability and personal relationships. If your agent authorises it see Part H, this communication may take place by e-mail or fax.

The department will only send your agent information which you are entitled to receive. For example, if you are a visa applicant and have a sponsor, your agent will not receive personal information about your sponsor, unless your sponsor has also appointed the same agent.

In some situations, the department's staff will need to speak with you directly, rather than with your migration agent – for example, if you are applying for a visa the department may interview you. In some situations, the department's staff will also send documents to you directly (eg. passport) instead of to your agent, but it will inform your agent that it has done so.

If you have appointed a migration agent to act for you, you are still responsible for the accuracy of information and supporting documentation that you give to your agent so that your agent can provide it to the department.

When you provide the details of your migration agent, please make sure you include their 7-digit:

- migration agent registration number (if they are a registered migration agent); or
- offshore agent ID number (if they have been allocated one by the department).

Note: Agents who operate overseas do not need to be registered. They may however, have been allocated an ID number by the department.

Using a migration agent

You are not required to use a migration agent. However, if you use a migration agent, the department encourages you to use a registered migration agent. Registered agents are bound by the Migration Agents Code of Conduct, which requires them to act in the lawful best interests of their clients and act professionally.

A list of registered migration agents is available from the Migration Agents Registration Authority (MARA) website www.themara.com.au

You can contact the MARA at:

E-mail: themara@themara.com.au

PO Box Q1551
QVB NSW 1230
AUSTRALIA

Telephone: 61 2 9299 5446

Fax number: 61 2 9299 8448

The MARA investigates complaints against registered migration agents and may take disciplinary action against them. If you have a concern about a registered migration agent, you should contact the MARA. A copy of the complaint form is available from the MARA website.

Restrictions on giving immigration assistance

In Australia, anyone (including a lawyer) who uses knowledge of migration procedure to offer immigration assistance to a visa or cancellation review applicant, sponsor or nominator, must be registered, unless exempted from registration requirements by law. There are serious criminal penalties under Part 3 of the Act for breaching the law – including possible imprisonment if the unregistered person asks for, or receives, a fee or reward for their services.

Using an agent exempted from registration

Certain people, such as officials, parliamentarians, diplomats, close family members (ie. only your spouse, child, adopted child, parent, brother or sister), sponsors and nominators, are able to provide you with immigration assistance as long as they do not ask or receive a fee or reward. If you wish to appoint an 'exempted agent', you must complete form 956 Appointment of a migration agent and attach it to this application form.

Notification of giving immigration assistance

Under section 312A of the Act, a registered agent has a duty to notify the department when lodging an application on behalf of a client, or within 28 days of commencing to act on behalf of a visa applicant. This notification can be done, by completing and your agent signing the relevant sections of this application form.

Consent to communicate electronically

The department may use a range of means to communicate with you. However, electronic means such as fax or e-mail will only be used if you indicate your agreement to receiving communication in this way.

To process your application the department may need to communicate with you about sensitive information, for example, health, police checks, financial viability and personal relationships. Electronic communications, unless adequately encrypted, are not secure and may be viewed by others or interfered with. If you agree to the department communicating with you by electronic means, the details you provide will only be used by the department for the purpose for which you have provided them, unless there is a legal obligation or necessity to use them for another purpose, or you have consented to use for another purpose.

Your e-mail address and mobile phone number may be provided to the Department of Employment and Workplace Relations so that they can contact you via e-mail and text messaging about seasonal work opportunities in regional Australia.

The Commonwealth Government accepts no responsibility for the security or integrity of any information sent to the department over the internet or by other electronic means.

If you authorise another person to receive documents on your behalf and they wish to be contacted electronically, their signature is required on the form to indicate their consent to this form of communication.
